What are you doing next Winter? Dolomites Multi-sport

Next year, mid-February ADVENTOURUS will be running an exciting trip to Northern Italy & Arlberg, Austria. We'll start with a couple of nights in romantic Venice, then head to Val Gardena to test our ski legs. Enjoy a few days of hut-to-hut skiing (luggage will be transported) in the network of Gondola's that connect vast expanses of peaks. On our off-ski days enjoy the spa or for more thrills go zip-lining. We'll snowshoe one day and go ice-climbing on another. Then we'll ski again in Cortina before heading to the lively slopes and nightlife of Arlberg area of Austria. Contact us to be added to the list if you are interested in receiving more information as we put this together. So far we have lots of interest.

TRAVELTIP:

Be aware when you are booking your flights, that there is a difference between "Direct" and "Non-Stop". There may be a stop on a direct flight, although you don't have to get off. A travel agent can help you with this as well as other instances, like when an airline goes out of business. Skyservice was our latest casualty, leaving many trusting travelers stranded or without transportation to their booked and paid-for destinations.

NETWORKING

I really believe in the process of referrals, and so part of the service I provide is to be sure to refer my clients and associates to other qualified businesspeople in the community. Here is a list of areas in which I know very credible, ethical, and outstanding professionals. It costs less and is faster! No more messing around with local stamps and trying to find a post-office! Ask us about it.
